Transatlantic Showcase: New Directions in Scottish Women's and Gender History

Fri 12 November and Fri 19 November 2021

We are delighted to bring together a Transatlantic Showcase to highlight vibrant new research on Scottish women's and gender history that is taking place in Canada and the UK.

The Transatlantic Showcase features presentations spanning some 700 years of history from the medieval to the contemporary. Our new generation of researchers will present on a wide variety of topics, such as artistic and literary production, food cultures, witchcraft and healing, friendship, work, power, patronage, and activism.

Please register on Eventbrite. For more details visit our website.

Transatlantic Showcase is free for everyone interested in Scottish women's and gender history.
